

Learning Online

You may be surprised by the courses you can do online, and a lot of it is free!

Free courses provided by top Universities and Specialist organisations.
100's of topics including business & management, literature, healthcare, programming & much more.
Courses are usually a few weeks long and only a few hours a week.

<https://www.futurelearn.com/>

The home of free learning from the Open University. Not just courses, there are articles, videos, games and much more. Anybody can study with 900+ courses between 1-100 hours long. Science, maths, languages, healthcare etc.

<https://www.open.edu/openlearn/>

OpenLearn

A brilliant website with free courses for beginners, helping you develop digital skills to make the most of the online world. You can learn how to use your device (computer, tablet etc), use the internet & set up an e-mail.

<https://www.learnmyway.com/>

Alison.com has over 1000 courses available. From Japanese to IT management. Excel to Supporting Children with Special Educational Needs and Basic English Grammar to Cellular physiology.

<https://alison.com/>

Free Level 2 distance-learning courses. This includes Working with Children, Health & Social Care, and Business Admin. In depth courses range from 8-16 weeks and are certified.
Please note that there is a charge if you do not complete the course.

<https://eastmidlands.unison.org.uk/online-learning/>

UNISON has partnered with Skills Academy to offer a limited number of places to access their 550 courses. All courses are CPD certified. Project Preparation, Assertiveness, Art Therapy, Safeguarding & more.

<https://learning.unison.org.uk/skills-academy/>

